TITLE: IF I COULD INVENT SOMETHING NEW

To invent means to make, design or creation of something new. In other words, can also be defined as to make something useful come to existence. While invention is something or equipment already created. There are so many things I would love to create but before I cannot do that without outlining the steps that come into my mind.

The first thing is how it will be of benefit to the society, having clever ideas, Brain wave, getting opinion from others, Knowing the needs of the society, carrying out research while doing these things it is necessary to think about how it will favour you only but how it will please and favor the society. This will be with the acquisition of knowledge and putting it in practice by that I mean science and technology and also researching on how to do so and make it work.

As we all know “Necessity is the foundation for invention”. There are so many good inventors that have invented things that are very beneficial to the society, For instance; Professor David Edward Hughes invented the microphone which in the present day uses to make sound loud. Elias Howe created the sewing machine which tailors, Fashion designers and so on use in mending and making cloth quickly. John Logier Baird invented the television which people now use to get more knowledge and information. Many devices and tools have been invented over the last centuries, making people’s lives more comfortable and easier with every year new innovation appear, some of them seem to surreal because these surpass our imagination.

If I would be able to develop a new machine, I would choose a teleportation machine because it would serve many causes. Firstly, it would help in decreasing the environmental pollution. Secondly, it would be a good tool for saving time. I will explain my statement in the following example.

To begin with, Modern machines and technologies have increasingly contributed to the fouling of the Earth. Almost all the devices represent a source of pollution. For instance, Auto mobiles and factories cause both Air and noise pollution which can seriously affect human health.

Secondly, at present time people are living at an intense pace because they have to do with thousands of activities and some of these have to do with spending lot of valuable time on the road. However, a teleportation machine offers some benefits regarding this aspect. Not to mention that this world would be less tiresome.

Thirdly, Earth is a marvelous planet, which has many fantastic places to visit unfortunately because of lack of money and time very few individuals visit them. But we can visit places of our dreams with teleportation machines.

In conclusion, inventing the teleportation machine would be a revolutionary moment in the world history. This is because it will enhance people’s life from diverse point of view and as a result, humans will be able to enjoy their good moments of life in a more effective and pleasant way.
