

NAME: UNEGBU STANLEY
SCHOOL: GREAT TOP NOTCH INT'L SCHOOL
CLASS: JSS 2

“IF I COULD INVENT SOMETHING NEW”

Background of the Problem

Forgetfulness is something that we've had to accept in Our daily life ;and often times misplacing items is one Of the most Forgetfulness is something that we've had to accept In our daily common example , whether it happens inside our house or in random place outside.

This list is possible causes for misplacing items Might be endless. As with life, there are many variables simply living in moment, or just unlucky; it can be annoying for everyone involved. When were distracted. Hurried/impatient, tired, we are more likely to forget where we put things, which can lead to frustration. If we need the item urgently, or even in the worst see, the item is lost

Understanding the Problem

To define the problem, I conducted a small survey to make sure

That my assumption about this problem is valid enough, and moreover, to guide me in the ideation process ahead.

I did a survey via form and asked those couple of question such.

1. How often do you forget where you put your items? [Such as keys, phone, wallet e.t.c.]
2. What item do you usually forget where you put them?[such as keys, phone, wallet e.t.c.]
3. How difficult is it to find those item?[when you forget where you put them
4. How long does it take to find those items again?
5. How do you feel when you forget where you put them, when you literally need to use those item rights at a time.

Have you lost your items

It is a breakdown at the interface of attention and memory'' when we lost things, the first thing we do is we want to look for it obviously. We start to ask: what happened to the item? When was the last time we saw it? What were we doing the last we saw it?

This repeated cycle of questions might be help, but again it is not always easy and work like we would expect when we just can't remember it.

The device will be in form of an app and a Bluetooth tracker

WHY AN APP

1. Because, it comes back to the forgetfulness again, which is inevitable , a normal human error that we experiencing everyday
 2. But, people use their phones throughout the day, this is the key factor on why an app is any go to option, because. whenever they are looking for their items, now they know that the app is their go to
- As we can see, Bluetooth trackers is more versatile for tracking everyday items because of it's small size, especially small items like wallet, keys or even attached to our pet, toys etc Besides that, the price is cheaper and one of the most important things; it support community help when is connected with one of the core features in the app.

But the downstairs are, the connection range is shorter and depends on the Bluetooth signal and strength.