IF I COULD INVENT SOMETHING NEW

If i could invent something new, if i could do something that has never been done or existed before, what would it be?

Thinking about the topic made me realize the various benefits of inventions that has helped and is helping us human beings, in ways we can never imagine. From a Light bulb switch to even a Vehicle, they all have good effect on us.

But these things, most times never brings us together, never brings everyone peace, or a special and unique type of satisfaction. So, i think if i can invent something, i would like to makeup something unique and different. A tool that promotes peace and unity. A machine that can break the barrier of language difference.

I would love to deasign a device that can translate any language at any time. Yes, a language translator. Not like the ones on our smartphones, or the internet. But, a device on its own that translates.

Just like a wristwatch tells the time, without asking it to, my invention would be one that helps to automatically facilitate communication between people from different background, tribe and nation. A device that hepls bridge language barrier accross the world.

Imagine talking to someone from china, where they speak chinese and you are not confused as to what they say, but you smile in cooperation, understanding what the person is saying without dropping a sweat and then proceeding to respond in your own mother tongue. Would that not be a loving experience? Of course it would be.

A device that would yeild unity among diverse cultures, traditions and societies, thereby bringing everyone from all over the world together. A tool, not only the first of its kind, but a suprise that would be beneficial to everyone, both young and old, even the disabled.

It would even reduce the rate of discrimination among people of different tribes and culture. Yes because, rather than argue, quarell or fight about who is better or which tribe is the best, they have something at their disposal that would help in understanding the other tribe better and vice versa.

Even go as far as solving little but important issues, such as that of parents who would not bless the union of their children who chooses a partner from other tribe. The device would help to promote love among both families, thereby bringing them all closer and strengthening their bond.

What about those are are past the infancy and teenage stage, but wants to learn a new language? There would be no need to, because, my device or my inventon to-be would do all the learning.

I do not know how to begin the invention process yet, but when i do, i am sure and confident that it would do alot of good!
