

IF I WANT TO INVENT SOMETHING NEW

If I want to invent something new, I would like to invent a robot, to begin with robots are human like structure built by human to work according to their programming they of full technology power to understand things in the world. They are made to make work very fast and easier for human. Robots are precious to human that people use them in other country, robots are made through programming, robots are in the different types some are programmed to sweep, wash, and work on farms due to their power and programmed sense, some people force them to do what they can do which will cause malfunction because they don't read the manual and knowledge of how it works.

Secondly, I want to invent robots in Nigeria because I am proud of my country, I want my country to be the best country with high technology , my country will beat the best and be the best, I want my country's name to be mentioned everywhere and I want to take my family name to higher ground, I want be the best robot manufacturer in the world, the world is in need of people's thinking to artificial intelligence to help them, some robots can make cars, bike and other materials for their manufacturers but some people in the world misuse them, they treat them like animals and they ought to be treated like humans beings furthermore, robots will lead to the increase in food production in some countries because the robots are programmed to work on farm they will work faster than farm machineries. Robots will lead to the spread of thinking of people because they will want to invent robots too because they see it doing great works.

Moreover, robots in Nigeria will make Nigeria the richest among all countries, trade in Nigeria will flow and people will come to buy food products in Nigeria since robots help do the work on farm with the help of some farm machineries, travelling will also be easy because robots will manufacture ships, airplanes, and other travelling menus. Some robot cook and sweep for people at home but it cause some problems like laziness, laziness will be people first priority because people will buy robots to work and people won't work anymore, another problem is that some robots are too expensive to be bought and kids will start stealing and it will increase theft in some part of the world, discrimination will be everywhere in the world the rich will be abusing the poor people that they don't have money to buy robots to their works`

Lastly, the care of robots has to be watched, robots has to be cared for, they are to be treated like human because they work without getting tired and they don't eat, you must treat and maintain them like human. Robots are precious material and must be taken care of like gold. My main reason for inventing a robot is for human aid and helping human in the world.
