

LIE DETECTOR

I would like to invent a lie detector. Firstly what is a lie detector?

A lie detector test is a device that measures the involuntary physiological changes of a subject body as the subject responds to a question or statement. Secondly who is a lie detector? A lie detector is a polygraph examines.

There are some of the reasons why I would like to invent a lie detector.

Firstly importance of lie detectors. Lie detectors have been used in criminal investigations for several decades.

Secondly the usefulness of a lie detectors are so much and I would love to invent a lie detector which can also play people past event and people's future occurrence whenever they place their hand on it. These can be helpful in criminal investigation; it would make the work of the law enforcement agencies easier.

With the help of this lie detector which I would have loved to invent justice will be well served. Whenever the criminal or suspect place his/her hand on the lie detector device which I would have loved to invent, all his/her past events and future activities is going to be displayed on the lie detector which I would have loved to invent.

So whenever the politicians are telling us their manifestos, with the help of this lie detector which I would have loved to invent.

The citizens will know who is to be voted for with that we will have a great and successful nation.

I would love to build a lie detector in such a way that it can never be manipulated.

It pains a lot when a suspect is being detained for so long because of elongated investigation, and also it pains when a criminal is granted bail because of poor investigation by the law enforcement agencies with the help of this lie detector I would have loved to invent, nobody is going to be accused wrongly.

And is going to be available in offices, market places, schools and every house hold because those who embezzle money in the office would be easily detected those who stole from the market women or shops can be easily handed over to the law enforcement agencies.

Even at the court of law there would be no need for witnesses, because in this society people are afraid of going to the court of law to tell the court about what they know about the ongoing case as a witness. with the lie detector which I would have loved to invent, which would plays peoples past invent as a flashback and people future occurrences, and what such person would do in the nearest future in the court of law.

I know this detector which I would have loved to invent would be verily, verily acceptable because it will ease them from the stress of too much investigations.

With this my little point of view we should know that this lie detector would be of great help to all nations.

Thanks.
