

IF I COULD INVENT SOMETHING NEW

If I could invent something new what could it be? Should I invent what that already been invented? No, because invention simply indicate the act of bringing new thing into existence, unlike creation which is the act of bringing living thing into existence.

I would like to invent something so beneficial to mankind and I need to add something to the world. I need to make the world smile because the world is facing so many challenges which cannot solve. I will like to invent a drug that can cure HIV/AIDS totally. First HIV means Human Immune Deficiency Virus. this is commonly passed on through unprotected sex. It can also be transmitted by coming in contact with an infected blood, through blood transfusion, sexual relationship, sharing needle in ear piercing, using blade, pregnant mother transfer to the child etc. The HIV virus attacks & weakens the immune system, where by making it less able to fight infections and diseases AIDS means Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome. AIDS disease is the final stage of HIV infection. As HIV enters the body of an individual, it destroys the cells of immune system making the person's body to be weak and unable to fight diseases. Person living with HIV for long period later infected with aids. There is some sign of and symptoms of HIV/aids which they are: the person will suffer from sickness like rashes, fever like yellow fever, diarrhea, small cough, dysentery etc. it can also make the victim to lose weight and become very thin. I actually invent that can cure this disease, I will save victims life who are dying because this disease has damage many humans heart in the world. Some professional doctors said that this disease has no cure, but the victims will live a healthy life, also take preventive drugs, the victim cannot associate with people very well because if eventually know that the person has this disease, they will now be far from him/her. But if I eventually invest this drug, when the victim took it in, it will cure the disease instantly and him/her can live a normal life.

Further I will also like to invent a machine which can help in the production of food, like planting food, weeding and other chores. It can also be called human tractor. Why I want to invent this machine is to improve the agriculture system of Nigeria. Nigeria as a nation is suffering from hunger due to poor farm tools, absent minded from the youths, lack of fertilizer etc. and I will also make it to be producing water to the dry land in order to cultivate farm product. If I actually invent this machine for our country Nigeria, it will make the cost of food low and it will make other country to know that we are the giant of African. It is good to invent something new for our country Nigeria in order to eradicate archaic mentally or old knowledge.
