If I could Invent something new

4x4 transforming mech

Inventing is the act of creating something that has never been done. I want to invent a Transforming mech. It has many features such as;

- Changing into different machines
- Able to fly
- You can enter it
- it can be controlled with a remote
- invisible

It will be used by scientists for discoveries, by the force for going to wars. It will be sold only in the industries and government where they produce it. If a person buys the mech and sells it and is caught, he will be arrested.
