If I Could Invent Something New
MIND-READING GIZMO.

Invention is the action towards creating something new or what has never been made before. There are many great people who have created inventions that have transformed our world today. Johanner Guttenberg, who reated the first printing press, Alexander Graham Bell, who created the telephone, Thomas Edison, who created the first lightbulb. THESE are all great people who are remembered for their great creations. Even I want to become one of the greatest inventors the world will ever see.

The beginning of an invention starts with dreaming about it and i personally have many dreams. If i could invent something new it would be something that children and youths would enjoy using which would be a mind-reading gizmo.

This mindreading gizmo can be attached to the back of a person's ear or as a sensor on the wrist. Imagine of people could actually detet when are lying or saying the truth or even being sarcastic. this gadget of mind can help u know all of this by sending neural signal signals into another person's device.
