ESSAY TOPIC: IF I COULD INVENT SOMETHING NEW.

Technology can be seen as strength to we humans. Inventing and developing in our life makes things easy and faster. As our historical development passes on, we need to think about inventing something new and which will add to our daily life .Humans can come around and create a technology which can change and manipulate us in our everyday life. Invention can be seen as something which humans require a lot because when something is been invented, people come to check out the new invention.

If I could invent something new is a man made mind thinking . I have come to conclude on what to invent which will make humans have a belief in technology and creating something new can change our world and many people who have come to belief, can see why famous inventors had seen when they started the journey to a new world of change and satisfaction.

As a result in improving and inventing something new to help humans face. Knowing the actual machine which is need to be invented is known as a "TELEPORTING MACHINE". This can be an appliance that helps in the process of moving from one place to another .

A teleportation machine helps we humans to do so many things . Machine which are created always have good merits . Teleporting is an easy , faster, better way to travel as humans to other part of the world. For instance we humans can face an urgent emergency or when someone has fallen into different kind of danger and an easy and faster way is needed to go what else should we think about when our very own teleportation machine is here to help us. Some people think that technology, inventing is a waste of our time but when machines are invented we need it to satisfy some of our travelling problem. A teleporting machine helps in different ways which makes us have an emergency done in no time.

Creating a teleportation machine may take humans strength and energy .If inventing something which make the world influenced by it beneficiary use, some methods are adapted to this device. This device helps we humans to go anywhere we desire , even if it is not common in the world , some people take it as the source of transportation. A teleportation machine help to resolve the numerous problems humanity confronts.

Planet Earth is a wonderful planet which people can visit marvelous places. But unfortunately because of reasons such as lack of money some people can't visit but with the of the machine we can all visit our dream places. Teleportation may seem it like it is simply for travel . It has valuable ability as it can be used offensively while offering superiority regarding movement, speed and distance coverage. A skilled combatant or strategist can use it for many innovative manner.
