Essay Topic: IF I COULD INVENT SOMETHING NEW

Many tools and strategies are out for managing time and schedules in many companies, including schools and at home. The ‘calendar’ can be used to schedule time and meetings, and the ‘clock’ can be used to set alarms, but have you thought about a single device that can conduct all these functions, and help you achieve desired results easily every day? As a student, I have faced times when I forgot to do my class assignment and I faced the consequence of mark reduction. As human errors are inevitable and errors such as forgetting to pick up your child from school on time or missing important appointments may have harsh consequences. In recent times, advanced technology has been helping us improve our ways of doing things, with the computer being the go-to equipment that enhances some of these activities. If I could invent something new, it would be the invention of a time management device – an electronic gadget, that could help us get more focused and organized and thus achieve whatever we planned to do every day.

About the gadget

The ‘Remindme’ device will be an electronic mobile gadget built to accept voice recording. Powered with electricity and with its audio capacity, it verbally reminds you what you have planned to do. It will have time features, for time to be assigned to what you want to do. It can be used in homes and offices.

Benefits at home:

- It can enhance parents’ capacity in achieving all they desire to achieve daily by timely reminding them to do what they are scheduled to do.
- Children can get more organized and focused as they follow the audio reminders of this gadget.
- This device can help eliminate procrastination.

Benefits in offices:

- This device can help the office in improving employee efficiency and help meet deadlines.
- It can help reduce stress and anxiety, especially when you meet up with what you intend to do.
- It can help to achieve reaching goals faster.
- Students, employees, and business owners can manage their time well.

In conclusion the ‘Remindme’ gadget can help both students and adults to manage their time well and be more productive.

Thank you.
