IF I COULD INVENT SOMETHING NEW.

In the era of social media and technological advancement in the information and communication technology, we the children are exposed to all manners of immoral contents like pornography, nudity, violent behavior, gory videos, radicalization etc. and these can bring stress, frustration and depression to guardians or parents.

Most children get addicted to watching videos especially pornographic and nude ones. This will damage the reputation or name of many families when children get exposed to these forms of negativity. They are thereby despised and hated by many people as their conduct tarnishes their image and that of their family.

Have you ever wondered how to keep an eye on your child or children in order to protect them from watching or going through things or bad videos online? Well, I have a solution to your problem.

If I could invent something new, it would be a PHONEVEILLANCE. The name is a combination of two words, which are phone and surveillance. This would be a kind of phone that can be used by parents to monitor all the activities carried out on their children's phones. A PHONEVEILLANCE is a phone that helps parents monitor their children's phones in the area of:

1. Who they call.
2. Who calls them.
3. Who they text.
4. Who texts them.
5. What they watch online via social media.
6. What they download.
7. What they upload.

Social media pages like Tiktok, Facebook, Twitter (X), Snapchat, Instagram, Youtube, WhatsApp to name but a few, though created for a good purpose also have negative influence on we, the children if not properly supervised. Many children watch pornographic, nude and gory videos which have negative influence on them and which could scar them for life. Nudity is common amongst children and teens who are exposed to the internet. The reason many children do this is because they see people doing it online and become popular and so they try to imitate them, thereby getting addicted.

Parents truly need this kind of gadget to monitor their children. In the area of who calls them and who texts them, parents will be able to know their friends and relationships in school or when they are not around. This will prevent children from engaging in sexual immorality because of peer pressure.

In the world of today, kidnappers call or find out phone numbers of people to call and pretend to be a known person to them and ask them to meet them in a particular location. If this happens, a parent might get suspicious and know the whereabouts of their children and inform the police.

In conclusion, the PHONEVEILLANCE would help parents, children, the society and the nation in the area of preventing exposure to immoral contents, kidnapping, fraud, rape and a number of social vices. PHONEVEILLANCE would be a great invention because of the reasons, ideas and ideology behind it.

Thank you!
